The Distance & Blended Learning Committee had its first meeting of the year on August 17. We settled on meeting dates for the year, usually two weeks before the meetings of the University Faculty Council. Because of a change in the UCC's meeting schedule, we agreed to move up the deadline for summer 2018 online course proposals to October 31 and Fall 2018 online course proposals to November 1, 2017.

We began initial discussion of a proposal to teach CPSC 225 online, beginning this Spring. Those present were generally in favor, but we decided to wait to hear from the other members of the committee.

Meeting Adjourned at 3:40pm

Next meeting: Wednesday, September 12, 2017
