WI Committee Meeting September 17, 2012

Present: Brooke Di Lauro, Gwendolyn Hale, Joe Nicholas, Mary Rigsby, Courtney Clayton, Nina Mikhalevsky

- 1. Meeting dates:
 - Next meeting is November 14th at 4pm in Writing Center
 - January 23rd at 4pm for first Spring semester meeting in Writing Center

 - February 27th at 4pm in Writing Center
 March 27th at 4pm in Writing Center
 - April 17th at 4pm in Writing Center
- 2. Discussed the February 15th date as date for catalog changes.
- 3. Discussed motion for increasing writing requirement to designate course as WI
 - addressed digitized writing
 - decided we would wait on motion until we find out exactly what is happening for WI assessment and then update wording once we know
 - intent of motion is to acknowledge amount of work faculty already does and to incorporate word count not just page count
- 4. Checked writing center website to ensure that dates were correct for WI proposals
- 5. Gwen will send out information to the rest of the committee on how writing is currently being assessed. She will send rubric that students are using to assess writing.
- 6. Nina wondered if we have an executive summary of how things will be assessed in terms of writing across writing intensive courses.
 - Joe will find out from Taiwo what needs to be assessed and how; we need full schedule of assessing
 - We need our charge for WI committee in terms of assessment
- 7. Discussed proposals:
 - HIST 297: History Colloquium and HIST 298: History Practicum
 - o Committee approved proposals based on HIST 297: History Colloquium as 7-8 pages. If he wants proposal to be 10, then needs to resubmit the proposal so that page numbers are followed.
- 8. May want to send brief to UFC about need for faculty director of writing intensive program, and this is an across-the-curriculum area and we recommend an effort be made to bring writing intensive program in alignment with speaking intensive program. Mary will bring draft to next meeting.
