

CASFC would like to bring up a discussion of our recording policy under new business:

Discussion of Recording Policy

This semester students in several classes have been selling class notes and study guides created by the student to a commercial site called StudySoup (<https://studysoup.com/>). UAAC has determined that this is in violation of our class recording policy. When CASFC examined the policy, we found that the language did not cover notes written by the student during class. We would like to ask whether the policy can be amended to clearly include written notes, not just audio and visual recordings. The policy can be found at this link: <https://www.boarddocs.com/va/umw/Board.nsf/goto?open&id=ATZSXG724B54>
